

Colleen was very upset because her brother was in surgery. She was scared she would never see him again!

And after that she would get a mean text everyday!

Colleen decided enough was enough and she told her dad.

Colleen started getting some horrible text messages which made her even more upset.

she didn't want to go to school anymore, she called up her BFF Nisa to tell her.

her dad called up the school and told them about it and the bully got what he deserved.

The rest of the day she couldn't stop crying, she kept it to her self and didn't tell anyone.

she said to block him but Colleen couldn't so the message came flooding in.

And her brother came out of hospital, he was fine.