Dairy Milk was texting Apple, his best friend whom he hadn't seen for the whole holiday, which was six weeks long.

Apple didn't want to be friends with Dairy Milk anymore and texted him back...

I HATE YOU!

This text was from Apple saying you make people FAT!

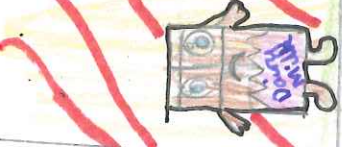

Poor Dairy Milk was very upset he cried and cried.

Dairy Milk would see Apple at school that's why he didn't want to go to school he screamed and shouted but he still had to go to school.

Dairy milk had, had enough of not being able to trust Apple. So when he got to school he told his teacher and his teacher spoke to Apple.

Then the next day Dairy Milk got another message from Apple again. This message was also rude.

Day after day he got a rude and hurtful text from Apple.

Apple said to Dairy Milk "next time you get a text go on the e-Safety website which is called: (www.ceorb.police.uk) but for now be friends!
